THE SOUTH.

BY FATHER RYAN.

Where the ruins are spread, And the living tread light On the hearts of the sead;

Yes, give me the land
That has legends and lays,
That tell of the memories
Of long vanished days.

Yes, give me the land
That hath story and song,
To tell of the strife,
Of the right with the wrong;
Yes, give me the land
With a grave in each spot,
And names in the graves
That shall not be forgot.

Yes, give me the land
Of the wreck and the tomb;
There's grandeur in graves—
There's glory in gloom;
For out of the gloom
Fature brightness is born,
As after the night.

As, after the night.
Looms the sunrise of morn.

And the groves of the dead,
With the grass overgrown,
May yet form the footstool
Of Liberty's throne;
And each simple wreck
In the way-path of might,
Shall yet be a rock

Shall yet be a rock In the temple of Right!

For restoring Gray Hair to

Cough, Bronchitts, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deceply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it, has become better known. Its undown character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have me White adapted to middle protector against and to young children, it is middle protector against and to young children, it is the protector against and to young children, it is middle and the protector against and to young children, it is been supported to be given for incipient consumption, and the data persons affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antiolot for them. Although settled Consumption is thought incirable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.
